CARING @HOME

The caring@home project is funded by the Australian Government Department of Health and Aged Care and led by the Brisbane South Palliative Care Collaborative.

This project aims to improve the quality of palliative care service delivery for all Australians by developing resources to support carers and families to help manage end-of-life symptoms for a person at home.

KAMS

KAMS (Kimberley Aboriginal Medical Services Ltd) is a member based, regional Aboriginal Community Controlled Health Organisation (ACCHO), providing support and representing the interests of eight independent ACCHOs from towns and remote communities across the Kimberley region of Western Australia, and Kimberley Renal Services, which is a wholly owned subsidiary.

FRED HOLLOWS FOUNDATION

We're a development organisation working in more than 25 countries. We help train and empower local eye doctors, nurses and health workers to create a sustainable system of care in the communities that need it most. The work we do has a very clear purpose: to make sure everyone, whether they're rich or poor, has access to high quality, affordable eye health.

NSW MINISTRY OF HEALTH

The NSW Ministry of Health supports the executive and statutory roles of the Minister for Health and Minister for Regional Health, Minister for Mental Health and Minister for Medical Research.

The NSW Ministry of Health also has the role of 'system manager' in relation to the NSW public health system, which operates more than 220 public hospitals, as well as providing community health and other public health services, for the NSW community through a network of local health districts, specialty networks and non-government affiliated health organisations, known collectively as NSW Health.

The Ministry of Health guides the development of services and investments in the NSW public health system to ensure that the health priorities of the NSW Government are achieved for the community of NSW.

HUMANABILITY

As the Jobs and Skills Council for the care and support economy, HumanAbility partners with aged care, disability support, children's education and care, health & human services, sport & recreation to advance skills, training and workforce development.

Together, our sectors represent the largest employer in Australia and are integral to Australia's economy and community well-being.

Our goal is to lead and facilitate in consultation with industry the development of skilled and sustainable workforces which can meet growing community demand.

SOUTH AUSTRALIA HEALTH

SA Health is committed to protecting and improving the health of all South Australians by providing leadership in health reform, public health services, health and medical research, policy development and planning, with an increased focus on wellbeing, illness prevention, early intervention, and quality care.

SA Health is the brand name for the health portfolio of services and agencies responsible to our Minister, the Minister for Health and Wellbeing.

SA Health is working to address the health inequities faced by Aboriginal people, reducing the gap in health outcomes between South Australia's Aboriginal people and the rest of South Australia's population.

AIDA

Australian Indigenous Doctors' Association is a not-for-profit, member-based, professional association supporting Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander medical students and doctors.

AIDA's purpose is to grow ethical and professional Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander doctors who will lead and drive equitable and just health outcomes for all our peoples.
